Message of welcome from the Mayor of Christchurch, Lianne Dalziel

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to your new life in Christchurch. Our city is a very friendly place, even more so because our community came together after the earthquakes. We learned how important it was to value and take care of each other, and to take the time to enjoy ourselves. You join us in a multi-cultural city with people from over 165 ethnicities.

Canterbury is a great place to start your life in New Zealand. The rebuild after the earthquakes has created an atmosphere of optimism, energy and momentum. Today, Christchurch is a city of many opportunities and great diversity, full of colour and vibrancy. What Lonely Planet and the New York Times love about Christchurch is the innovative, and creative use of space that we see everywhere.

I hope the information in “New to Christchurch” will help you and your family to feel welcome in your new home.

Nau mai, haere mai, welcome, welcome, welcome.

Lianne Dalziel

Message of welcome from the Kaiwhakahaere (Chair) of Ngāi Tahu, Sir Mark Solomon

Te Waipounamu, The South Island of New Zealand, is a wonderful place. Its rich history is intertwined with Ngai Tahu people who hold the rangatiratanga or the tribal authority to over 80 per cent of the South Island. Ngai Tahu means the”people of Tahu” and all Ngai Tahu can trace their ancestry back to one man – Tahupotiki – the founder of Ngai Tahu.

Over the years, Ngai Tahu have welcomed many people to this land and in particular to the city of Otautahi, or Christchurch. You now join all these others in becoming a Cantabrian and it is your turn to be welcomed to this wonderful city. Enjoy our city and enjoy the lifestyle and benefits of living in Otautahi.

Ta Mark Solomon, KNZM

Christchurch in transition

Driving

The New Zealand Transport Agency (NZTA) website www.nzta.govt.nz is a great resource for finding information on driving in New Zealand.

Free phone: 0800 822 422.

Before driving around the city:

- You must have a drivers licence. You can use your international drivers licence for a maximum of one year. After one year you must get a New Zealand licence.
- You need to know the road rules. The rules are explained in a book called the Road Code. You can:
  - Access it online on the NZTA (New Zealand Transport Agency) website:
    - www.nzta.govt.nz/resources/roadcode
  - Borrow it from Christchurch City Libraries.
  - Buy it from most book shops.
An overview of the road rules is available in NZTA’s brochure called New Resident Drivers. It is available in several languages.

Phone NZTA for free 0800 699 000 for a copy.

- An overview for migrants and visitors about what is different about driving in New Zealand is also available in several languages.
- Everyone in the car must wear a seat belt. Children under 148 cm tall must be properly restrained by an approved car restraint. The NZTA child restraint factsheet outlines all the rules about child safety restraints.
- It is a good idea to get car insurance – look in the under insurance companies.

Getting a drivers licence:

- You must get a New Zealand drivers licence after one year. The www.nzta.govt.nz is the official site which tells you what to do and where to go to get a licence.
- You will have to pass a theory test and possibly a practical driving test. You need to understand the New Zealand Road Code to prepare for the test. The Road Code is available at Libraries.
- In New Zealand you must carry your drivers licence or permit at all times when you are driving. If your overseas licence is not in English, NZTA suggests you carry an official translation with you.

Buying a car

- For all official information on owning and driving a car in New Zealand, search the NZTA website with the keyword: vehicle www.nzta.govt.nz
- Be very careful if you buy a car on ‘hire purchase’. Seek advice. For more information on consumer rights see www.consumeraffairs.govt.nz
3. Understand the banking and tax system

It is a good idea to open a bank account as soon as possible. You need a bank account to receive your wages from your employer.

EFTPOS

EFTPOS cards (also known as debit cards or bank cards) are very popular in New Zealand.

Most shops and businesses accept EFTPOS. The card is linked to your bank account. When you make a purchase, the money is taken directly (debited) from your bank account.

You can also use your EFTPOS card at an ATM (an Automatic Teller Machine), to withdraw cash or to check your account balance. To use your EFTPOS card, you need a PIN (Personal Identification Number). Your bank will ask you to choose the PIN. Do not show your PIN to anyone. If you lose your bankcard or think someone else has your PIN, contact your bank straight away.

Banks in Christchurch

There are many banks registered in New Zealand. The Reserve Bank of New Zealand has a list of banks currently registered in New Zealand. Information about banks and their policies is available at the branches and on their websites. The main banks are:

- ANZ www.anz.co.nz
- ASB www.asb.co.nz
- BNZ www.bnz.co.nz

- National Bank of New Zealand www.nbnz.co.nz
- Westpac www.westpac.co.nz
You can choose which bank you want to join. Please note that each bank may:

- Charge different fees;
- Offer different services;
- Have different opening hours. (Some banks are open on a Saturday)

Saving for retirement

The government subsidises a voluntary retirement fund called KiwiSaver: www.kiwisaver.govt.nz or free phone 0800 549 472.

SuperGold Card is a discounts and concessions card issued free to all eligible older persons.

Free phone: 0800 254 565.

Paying taxes

If you work, are in business or receive a government benefit, you must pay tax. To pay tax you need an IRD number from the Inland Revenue Department (IRD).

For more information about IRD numbers:

- Visit www.ird.govt.nz – this is the main website of the Inland Revenue Department. You can find information about how to apply for an IRD number and you can download the application forms
- Visit www.whatstax.govt.nz – this is a website of the Inland Revenue Department that is aimed at young adults in particular. It provides introductory information about income tax and easy access to tools and services. It links to the application form for individuals
- 0800 227 774 (if you are a salary or wage earner)
- 0800 377 774 (if you are self-employed or in business)

You should apply for an IRD number for each family member, including children. This will ensure that you are taxed at the correct rate. If you don't have an IRD number, you will have to pay the highest tax rate.

Some expenses (donations, school donations, childcare, housekeeping while you work) may be able to be claimed back in part from your tax.
4. Finding a place to live

You will need to find somewhere to live when you arrive.

- Short Term
  - Before renting or buying you need to find somewhere to stay such as a furnished apartment, motel, bed and breakfast, or backpacker hostel. To find short-term accommodation, search in the yellow pages under accommodation. The following websites may also be useful:
    - www.accommodationnewzealand.co.nz/region/christchurch
    - www.aatravel.co.nz/new-zealand/Canterbury_Accommodation
    - www.aatravel.co.nz/christchurch-earthquake
    - www.jasons.co.nz/accommodation
    - www.christchurchnz.com/nz
    - www.tourism.net.nz/region/christchurch/accommodation
    - www.trademe.co.nz

- Long Term
  - Most new migrants rent when they first arrive. This gives you time to save money and decide where you want to live, the size of place needed, your budget, your school and transport needs.

Tenancy Agreement

A tenancy agreement is a written, legal contract between you and your landlord. The law says you must have one. You should sign an agreement only if you fully understand everything that is written in it, because a tenancy agreement becomes a legal document when you sign it.

You must also pay a deposit and a bond. Your landlord will send the bond to the Department of Building and Housing which is an independent government agency. The Department of Building and Housing will send you a letter when it receives the bond. A bond is usually the equivalent of two to four weeks rent.

Information about renting in different languages can be found at: www.dbh.govt.nz/pub-tenancy-generalinfo or free phone 0800 866 262.
Renting a house or flat

The Press, the daily newspaper, is the main source of advertisements for renting private houses (especially on Wednesdays and Saturdays).

TradeMe.co.nz is also a good source of rental properties.

The Buy, Sell & Exchange (Friday only) also advertises properties to let. Both papers can be purchased from dairies, petrol stations, bookshops and supermarkets.

RealEstate.co.nz also has searchable listings for residential rentals.

Remember to have a personal reference and credit history report ready for landlords to look at. This will help them decide whether to rent the house to you. If you use a rental agency to find a property they will manage your contract with the landlord and may charge a letting fee. The main rental agencies advertise in the Classifieds section of The Press.

Social housing

Social housing is rental housing for people who have low incomes or special social, medical and personal needs.

Christchurch City Council provides social housing. To apply for social housing you must live in Christchurch, have low income and limited assets, and have a housing need. Successful applicants may have to go on a waiting list until suitable housing becomes available.

Housing New Zealand (HNZ) also provides social housing. www.hnzc.co.nz

To apply for a house from HNZ you must be eligible (that is, you must meet certain conditions). For migrants to be eligible you must have lived in New Zealand for two years. If you receive an emergency benefit, due to hardship, HNZ may accept your application.

Quota refugees are automatically eligible for a Housing New Zealand house. HNZ charges rent to its tenants based on their income. After you have lodged your application for housing with HNZ, you are assessed to determine your housing need. The assessment considers things like your current living arrangements and your social, medical and personal needs. This ensures that those with the greatest need receive help first.
Buying a house

You can buy a house if you can pay the full price of the property or arrange a long-term loan or mortgage from a lender, for example a finance house or the bank. The finance house or bank will look at your income, what you own, your debts and credit rating. Most banks and finance houses will ask you to pay a deposit (often 20 percent of the cost of the house) from your own money.

Your bank will give information on all the types of mortgages that are available. Make sure you use the mortgage that is most suitable for you.

Properties are advertised through:

- Real estate agents. You can find real estate agents in the yellow pages under real estate agents.
- The Realtor and Bluebook which are weekly publications available for free.
- The Press advertises many homes on Saturday. Look for ‘Open Days’, which is when you can visit the house without a real estate agent.
- www.trademe.co.nz is also a good source of properties for sale.
- Other free publications such as Homesell and Property Press are available at various supermarkets, malls, petrol stations, and dairies and The Star newspaper, which is delivered to your letterbox.

All major real estate companies have websites that advertise houses nationwide.

Moving into your home or rental accommodation – things to consider

Power

Christchurch homes are generally powered by electricity. You will need to open an account with an electricity provider. Look in the yellow pages under electricity supply. All providers have a free phone number to call. You may need to pay a bond at the same time that you pay the first bill.

https://www.powerswitch.org.nz/powerswitch/site-info/powerswitch-faqs/consumer-rights can help you decide which power company may be the cheapest for you.
Telephone

Look in the yellow pages under telecommunications. There are several service providers. The largest two are:

- Telecom – free phone 123 and follow instructions.
- Telstra Clear – free phone 0508 888 800 and follow instructions.

All local calls are free if you use a fixed line. Calls to 0800 and 0508 numbers are also free. All emergency 111 calls are free. You can also use cellphones (mobile phones).

Vodafone, Telecom, FLIP and 2degrees are common networks in New Zealand, and you can purchase phones (either pre-pay or plan payments) from stores. Look in the yellow pages under cellular phones.

Internet (dial up, wireless and broadband) Accounts can be set up immediately if you are a Telecom or Telstra Clear customer and you want an account with the same company. Internet starter packs are available from other internet providers. Look in the yellow pages under internet service providers.

Rubbish and recycling

Christchurch City Council operates a kerbside collection service in Christchurch and your area will have a specific collection day. To find out what your collection day is, visit www.loveyourrubbish.co.nz or phone 941 8999.

- Organics bin (green lid) is collected weekly from the kerbside. Only food scraps and garden waste go into this bin.

- Recycling bin (yellow lid) is collected at the kerbside every two weeks. Only clean and topless recycling goes into this bin.

- Rubbish bin (red lid) is also collected every two weeks from the kerbside, alternating with the recycling bin collection.

Each bin has an address label and/or barcode, showing which property it belongs to. Bins must stay at the property they are allocated to. Please contact the Council if your bin does not have a label, or the bin does not match your address.

Our Kerbside Information Booklet is available in several different languages.

Insurance

If you are renting you should insure your possessions. MyInsuranceGuide.co.nz is a useful resource or look in the yellow pages under insurance companies.
Used furniture and homeware

Houses and most flats are unfurnished. Second-hand furniture and homeware such as crockery, cutlery and pots can be purchased at the Ecoshop, 191 Blenheim Road, phone (03) 982 8467, and second-hand shops. Look in the yellow pages under secondhand dealers.

When buying new or second-hand baby gear such as car seats, cots and pushchairs be sure they meet NZ Safety Standards, check consumer magazine available at your library.

Buy, Sell & Exchange is sold on Friday from dairies, petrol stations, bookshops and supermarkets. People advertise items they want to sell often at cheap prices including household goods, cars, bicycles and computers. Also advertised are services and job opportunities.

www.trademe.co.nz is an online auction site for people wanting to buy and sell goods in New Zealand.

Garage sales are a good way to sell goods you no longer need and to buy cheap second-hand goods. Garage sales are usually on Saturdays and sometimes Sundays, and advertised in The Press on Saturday. Many people also put signs on fences indicating a garage sale.

You can also hire new or used appliances. Look in the yellow pages under hire services. Consumer magazine is an excellent source for independent product and service reviews. All libraries have this magazine.
5. Choose a school or childcare centre

There are a number of early childhood education and childcare services in New Zealand. Children start school from the age of five.

- Childcare

  A useful guide to raising children in New Zealand, including information on pregnancy, babies, toddlers and parenting advice is www.kiwifamilies.co.nz.

  Some early childhood education and childcare services in New Zealand are free, while others charge depending on the service you need.

- Schools

  There are 3 main types of early childhood education:
  - Kindergartens
  - Childcare centres
  - Playcentres

- Kindergartens

  Kindergartens (kindies) are chartered and licensed. They employ qualified and registered teachers and most have morning and afternoon sessions. To find a kindergarten, go to www.nzkindergarten.org.nz.

- Childcare centres

  Childcare centres are operated by at least one qualified and registered teacher. They offer a variety of services.

  To find a childcare centre look in the yellow pages under childcare and education.

- Playcentres

  Playcentres are run by parents. To find a playcentre near you go to www.playcentre.org.nz.

- Leaving Children Alone

  In New Zealand, it is against the law to leave children under 14 without taking reasonable provision for their care and supervision.
Schools

Most children start school when they are five years old, after they have had their fifth birthday. The school year is from late January to mid-December. It is divided into four terms, with holidays between terms. There are public, private and integrated schools available. Most children go to the school nearest their house. If you want your child to go to a school outside your immediate area (zone) you will need to apply to that school.

For information about schools, use Te Kete Ipurangi’s School Finder service. www.tki.org.nz/schools

If you have a choice of schools you may want to talk to the principal or check the government report on a school. These are called ERO reports.

Check out the ‘Frequently asked questions’ (FAQs) on the Ministry of Education website. www.minedu.govt.nz

In Canterbury, the three main providers of education after secondary school (tertiary education) are:

- University of Canterbury
- Lincoln University
- Christchurch Polytechnic Institute of Technology (CPIT)

6. How to find work

To work in New Zealand you must have either citizenship in New Zealand or Australia; or a residence permit, work permit or Variation of Conditions which allows you to work on a student or visitor permit

You should have

- An up-to-date CV (Curriculum Vitae). A CV tells the potential employer about your education, work experience, and skills.
- Education or qualifications approved by the New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA).

Your documents may have to be officially translated. Look in the yellow pages under interpreters & translators.

If you want to practise a profession in New Zealand, you may need to apply for registration or membership of a professional body. The Christchurch City Libraries website is good site for finding these organisations.

To see a doctor (GP) during normal working hours (8.30am-5pm)

A family doctor or ‘GP’ is a part of the primary health team who are your first point of contact with the New Zealand health system. This team normally includes your GP, practice nurse and pharmacist. It is important to register with a GP as soon as you can after arriving in your new home town or city. Most GP’s practice within a medical centre.

You can choose which doctor to register with. You have the right to change your doctor. If you change your doctor you need to tell your new doctor about your previous doctor so your medical files can be transferred.

If you would like an interpreter at your consultation, ask for one when you make a booking. This is a free service to patients and doctors.

If you are unsure whether you need to see a doctor or not, free phone Healthline 0800 611 116 for free 24-hour health advice. You will be connected with a registered nurse who can help you decide what to do next.

Healthline

www.healthline.govt.nz will also link you with PlunketLine 0800 933 922 for Well Child advice on parenting and child health. This service is linked with Language Line - Push 2 and hold for registered nurse. Say ‘Language Line and the language you require’ you will then be linked with an interpreter.

If you are dissatisfied with an interpreter in a health situation, you can complain to the Health and Disability Commissioner. You can get a translated version of their brochure, “Making and Resolving Complaints”, or listen to your rights in your language, from their website: www.hdc.org.nz/complaints.

Important information about health services

- Doctors can set their own fees - there is no one set fee for visiting a doctor.
- Children under 6 years old can visit the doctor for free at some medical centres.
- To get medication prescribed to you by your doctor you will need to go to a pharmacy or chemist shop. Most items will cost you $3 each, but some will cost you more. Costs are less if you have a Community Services Card (contact Work and Income).
- If your injury happened in New Zealand because of an accident, you may receive personal injury cover from the Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC). This means your healthcare may be further subsidised or become free. ACC may also assist with interpreter costs. Go to for translated information in Pacific, Chinese and Korean languages.
- If you have health insurance, some or all of your medical costs may be covered. You will be able to access Private Health Services and will likely have a shorter wait compared with using the Public Health Service.
- To see a specialist at the hospital or in private practice, you will need to see your doctor first to obtain a referral. It may take weeks before you can get an appointment with a specialist. The specialist will assess you and send a letter to your doctor about a recommended course of action for your health needs.
- There is a voluntary charge for an emergency call-out for an ambulance.
Interpreters and support
You are entitled to have an interpreter when visiting a doctor or specialist to help you understand what is happening. At the time you phone to make an appointment, request an interpreter be available when you see the doctor. Ask to speak with a practice nurse or community worker if you need more support when visiting a doctor.
